WASHINGTON.

Speculations as to the Result of the Labors of the High Commission.

Prospect of an Extra Session of the Senate in May.

The Amnesty Bill to Come Up in the Senate To-Day.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.
THE WORK OF THE HIGH COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The general impression here among those who are in a position to know, is that the labors of the Joint High Commission have progressed almost as far as could be, and that the final adjustment of the treaty is a matter of settlement for the most important questions of difference between the two countries. The treaty will be forwarded to England some time next week to go with the various versions of the terms and conditions of settlement which Mr. D. Davidson, as the members of the commission have agreed upon, and carefully to avoid all allusions to their views, even to their colleagues, as it is thought by the parties that the right to be invited thereto. It is the opinion of quite a number of intelligent persons that an extra session of the Senate will be called for some time in the middle of May to act upon such propositions as may be submitted.

THE AMNESTY BILL IN THE SENATE.

The facility with which the Ku-Klux bill was taken up in the Senate yesterday, and passed without the slightest opposition, caused considerable surprise. Sheilabarger's management was commented on all day, and after the bill was disposed of, he was congratulated with him was terminating charmed with the whole course attempted by the faction headed by Sumner. In the case of the Ku-Klux bill, however, the Senate had already decided upon delivering as long as possible, Schurz, Sumner and Trumbull, who were opposed to the bill in its entirety, that the bill could not object. Their success was chosen by the fact that any new proposition would necessitate its reference to the committee on the Enrolled Amendment and the Clerks refusing to the journal such, to take a separate vote on each other amendment, and then send the whole subject to a conference committee. Pursuant Ward Judge Kelley rose and expressed the hope that the proposition would be accepted. All agreed, and in an hour the bill was passed by the Senate. In the matter much commented on that, in spite of the late attempt to cripple Trumbull and Schurz, the former went to the Senate and stood by it in put on the committee. The amount was not greater, but Shellabarger, Sumner and Kelley were selected. Of the Democrats, Thurman is on the Senate Conference Committee. The belief is that the section limiting the time does not exist for persons will be left to leave the country. The Sherman amendment will be modified so that executive shall not be forced upon citizens without upon individuals. Authorizing judgment against individuals was not in the bill originally, but was added by Senator Scott, who desired to have the session conform to certain New England usages.

THE DETROIT BILL.

Senator Cole will be Chairman of the Senate conference on the Reformatory Bill. Little trouble is expected in this case.

THE AMNESTY BILL.

It is the impression of many Senators to bring up the Amnesty bill, and have it disposed of, if possible, that is well here. The chief obstacle in the way is time, and it is feared from out that the question involved is one which will require considerable discussion upon it would be very much. Unless some delay arises from consideration of the Amnesty bill, action upon the Reformatory bill will probably take place on Tuesday.

REGISTRATION FOR TERRITORIAL OFFICERS.

Registration for voters for Territorial officers have closed yesterday. The total registration is 27,326, of which 13,163 are whites, and 14,163 are colored, a white majority of 1,000. The full vote about 2,000 of the registration of Lincoln 1,300 majority. The colored vote is said to be by the Democratic and Conservative parties, and they are of opinion that Morton will carry the Territory by 1,000 majority. The colored vote will be divided, but they have been educated to Republican principles, and will vote the Republican ticket.

THE OHIO SENATORIAL CONTINGENCY.

There are already many candidates for the appointment of General Garfield's seat in the Senate, however, appear to be those of Governor Hayes, Governor Noyes, and Judge Ashley. The Governor has declared his intention of making the Judge brought to Ohio; a part of the event depends on the action Democrats will take in the matter.

THE INDIANA IMBROGLIO.

The result of the contest over the Treasurership appears to be that no officer will be elected at present session of the Legislature. The bill to repeal the act to Amend and Organize, and vest the powers thereof in the Auditor of State, will pass the Senate to-day.

CHARITY CHANGE.

Commissioner Sargent, to take in charge of the Commissioner of Charities, has been appointed an Assistant Secretary Interior, of the Treasury Department.

THE REPRESENTATIVE GUBERNATORIAL.

In Representative Hoar, of Massachusetts, is the leading man in the House. He is the author of the bill to amend the Civil Service law, and is also the author of the bill to repeal the Civil Service law.

THE TREASURY ADVANCES.

The monetary circumstance in this Department will be continued here on Wednesday next. All the government policies are of the city still pledged.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMS.

The Presidential question is sufficiently heard with the Republican delegations from this city, protesting against a number of his late appointments in the Internal Revenue service, especially in Illinois, to satisfy not some noted from offices, the storm of his a day's days as a very nasty nose.

BASE BALL.

The White Stockings' Closing Game at New Orleans.

Second Victory Over the Lone Stars.

A Wretchedly Umpired Game.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

NEW ORLEANS, April 16.—The White Stockings have pulled themselves together in good shape, and have won two victories in succession, and they will submit their record to-day's contest with the Lone Stars with a clear conscience. The game was played in the presence of the largest crowd that has yet assembled to witness a match game in this city, and they thoroughly enjoyed the contest, notwithstanding the unfair, unwarranted, unmanly course pursued by the umpire, who rendered the first decision against the Chicagos. He reserved himself to be not only totally ignorant of the simplest rules of the game, but wilful also, in the third of the first innings, when Pratt, of the Lone Stars, and Hall, of the Chicagos, who occupied first and third bases, were challenged, which the latter, as a matter of course, declined to take notice of, as they should have done, leaving the umpire to decide. Pratt, however, was declared out by the umpire, and Captain Jack Holmes would have taken him off, only for the fact that Hall, who was the real offender, declared to the umpire that he was out, and the result of the game proved the justice of the decision heartily.

A. A. Reynolds of the game by batting will probably be the most satisfactory member of the club. He made two of the best hits of the game, and was very unfortunate in getting into clinches. However, it may be remembered that Wood, who was the best batter in the nine, was the second man, and Reynolds the third, and the latter's batting average in the championship match was the best of the nine, and the next to Wood's in the entire list. Reynolds has been playing with the nine ever since he arrived here, and has been getting better every day. He is a good man, and will be a valuable addition to the nine next season.

After the match the nine and friends were invited, but there was time lost, and the Whites went to bed.
